Looking back at the exciting eighties

As the sun sets on the 1980s, let us look back at a decade of unprecedented growth, undreamed-of change, and phenomenal progress in Elk Point. This was the decade of the oil boom, which brought new people and new businesses, and an expanded infrastructure to handle the increased population. The primarily farm-based community of 1980, with a population of just over 1000, has grown by nearly 34 percent, has added a large industrial subdivision and two residential subdivisions to its perimeters, has the added amenities of a new library, a new Baptist Church, a new seniors' lodge, a new bridge across the North Saskatchewan, a new Alberta Wheat Pool elevator, a completely new Town Council and administration, new stores and services, more paved streets, better water treatment and water and sewer lines, a new provincial park, a 100-foot historical mural, recreation land complete with a three diamond ball park and hiking trails, and work underway to develop the fur trading forts as a major tourist attraction.

Of course, all the news has not been positive. Recessions hit the agriculture and oil industries, a tornado hit Spring Park, and disasters hit on the highways. Water and garbage woes still concern Council, schools are still crowded, and Highway 41 north is still a narrow, nerve-wracking bugbear.

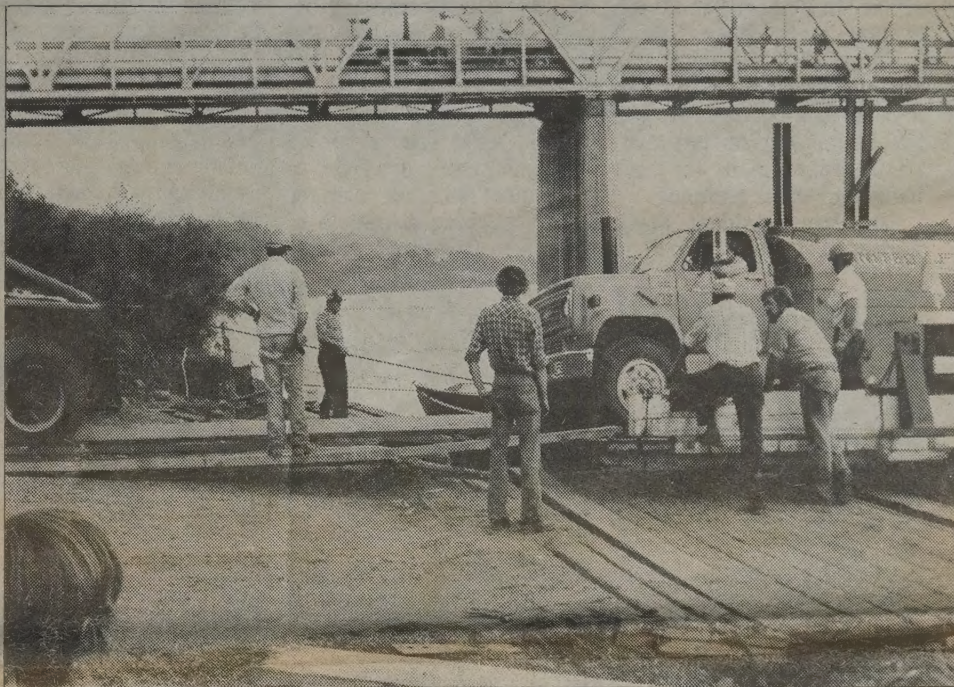

During the first few weeks of the new decade, we will take a look back at the way it was, in the fast-lane world of the 1980s.

Remember When???

A lot of water has flowed under both the old and new Elk Point Bridges since this August afternoon in 1981 when the Elk Point Ferry, replacing the fire damaged Elk Point Bridge, was swamped at the north end of its run and the vehicles aboard, including the UFA fuel truck, had to be rescued by makeshift ramps and a tow truck.

Town Council winds up the decade

Elk Point Town Council wound up the decade with a lengthy meeting on Wednesday, December 27, which met with three delegations and dealt with some long-standing matters, as well as preparing to start the 1990s in an efficient and progressive manner.

The new Community Services Department is ready to start operation as of January 1, with Council setting hours of office operation and dealing with staffing requirements. The Department's office hours will coincide with those of the municipal administration, being 35 hours per week, Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Council agreed that a full time secretary is needed to provide adequate program support and administrative service, this being an increase from the half-time FCSS secretarial post. Council went into camera briefly to discuss the hiring of Stephen Montgomery as Community Services Director, and later agreed to offer him this position, with a six month probation period.

A smoke-free environment policy for Town-owned buildings was discussed, with Council agreeing to declare the Town Administration Building, Community Services Department and Play-school areas smoke-free. The fire hall, water treatment plant and public works shop can be designated smoke-free also, if the individuals using those buildings agree. Elk Point Public Library has been smoke-free for some time.

A number of concerned residents were on hand for the assessment and evaluation of the temporary closure of 51 St. between the schools on a daily basis, and gave their comments on the measures which have been undertaken in recent months to make the afternoon dismissal period safer for students. A recommendation was made to proceed with a permanent structure to control traffic during the 20 minute time period daily, with the Utilities Committee to study alternative means of affecting the closure. In the meantime, the present barricades will be utilized. Concerns with the cost of signage and enforcement of the closure were expressed.

Information meeting

The Elk Point and District Agricultural Society will be hosting an Information Meeting regarding their proposed Agricultural Park and Fair Grounds development, at which the public may learn more about the plans for this exciting concept.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, January 4, at the Elk Point Public Library, just prior to the Town of Elk Point's Public Hearing on rezoning for the project, which will be held at 8:30 p.m. at the same location.

No baby New Year born yet

Elk Point's first baby of the 1990s had not yet arrived by press time on Tuesday. Hospital personnel said that they were not aware of any imminent arrivals, as no maternity patients had been admitted since the new decade began at 00:01 a. m., Monday morning.

Happy New Year

Town Council winds up the decade

Four agenda items dealing with Cicon Engineering were discussed together, with Mayor Kleeberger and Administrator Vincent delegated to review the matters with Mr. Chrapko and bring the matter back before Council in late January.

Response to the Town's request for assistance, if required, with the 1990 raw water pumping effort, has been received from Alberta Environment. The program utilized in 1989 ends on March 31, 1990, but the Town is eligible for the Emergency Water Supply Program if this becomes necessary. Mayor Kleeberger moved that $1500 be incorporated in the 1990 budget for water pumping.

Elk Point resident Steve Andrishak visited Council to discuss his concerns with tanker trucks parking along the north side of 50 Avenue, immediately east of Highway 41, beside his residence, which he says are a source of noise, odor and potential danger. The Town Administration had attempted to alleviate the problem earlier by speaking with the management of the firms whose trucks have been observed parking there, but made little headway into resolving the situation. Council reviewed the existing by-laws which might prohibit parking large vehicles at that point, and will investigate the distance between the fire hydrant near the corner to Mr. Andrishak's driveway to see if there is in fact room for legally parking a vehicle of this size. Oversized vehicle could be ticketed.

A request for information on a development permit taken out over 10 years ago by Steve Ference was reviewed by Council, who agreed to provide the details required by Mr. Ference's solicitor.

Fred Lambright of Elk Point and District Ambulance Services Ltd. attended the Council meeting to discuss the implications of Bill 25, the Amulance Service Act, on private ambulance services such as his. He offered to return to a future meeting when he has more details on the Bill.

A request for waiver of tax penalties by Simmo Developments was not favorably received by Council, who denied the request.

The date of a proposed meeting with the County of St. Paul was changed from January 2 to January 5, due to previous commitments by some of Elk Point's Council. The landfill site, Community Services Centre feasibility study, recreation land development, the County's FCSS program, street safety in the school area and ambulance service are all items to be included in the meeting's agenda.

Council agreed to nominate Ed Buck to the Northern Alberta Development Council. Buck has verbally confirmed he would be willing to serve on the NADC.

Dogs poisoned

Two dog poisonings have been reported in Elk Point, one on December 24 and the second on Boxing Day, with both incidents resulting in death of the animals. Samples have been sent for laboratory tests to determine the type of poison.

Town Council discussed the poisonings at their December 27 meeting and expressed a concern for safety of dogs in the community. Pet owners are alerted to take special care to protect their animals from potential danger.

An Elk Point RCMP spokesman also suggests that dog owners make sure their pets do not ingest antifreeze, which could be found in puddles left by running vehicles, as this liquid is extremely toxic to animals.

Pre-Christmas Draw

Patsy Zarowny helped owner Ruby Hanna make the prize draw at Creative Designs and Crafts on December 22. Annette Gregoraschuk was the lucky winner of a handsome Christmas centrepiece crafted by Mrs. Hanna.

Community Services news

The Community Services Department is off and running! The Recreation/Cultural Department and Family and Community Support Services have been combined to form the new Community Services Department. The amalgamation is intended to improve services to the community by providing a more efficient, consistent staffing structure and improved use of Elk Point's economic resources. All programs offered by FCSS and Recreation and Culture will continue as before, but look forward to expanded services and new programs as needs are identified.

Stephen Montgomery, previously the town's Recreation Coordinator, has been hired as the new Community Services Director. The Community Services Offices will be in the old FCSS Offices in the Community Services Building. Office hours are from 8:30-4:30 Monday to Friday. The phone number is 724-3800. Any suggestions for new programs or services are welcome.

There will be a registration night for ballet and jazz dance lessons in the Community Services Building on January 9 at 7:00 p.m. Dance lessons are to be offered by the McArthur Dance Studio and will start on January 16. Stanislaw Zayac, the instructor, will be present on January 9 to answer any questions. Don't miss this opportunity to take dance lessons in Elk Point.

Congratulates

MARIE LOUGHRAN

On her ten years of outstanding service. We're proud to have her on our team!

Draw winners

Dave's Pizza would like to congratulate the winners of their Christmas draws. Harold Lefebvre was the lucky winner of a pizza a month for a year, while Bernadette Pankiw won thermal coffee mugs and Denise Amyotte won the handsome hand-crafted spinning wheel planter.

In Our View

Looking back ...

During the past few weeks, we have spent many enjoyable hours poring over the Lakeland Reviews of 1984 to the present, and the Elk Point pages of the St. Paul Journal from 1980 to 1984.

How many exciting events have crossed our pages during that time! Elections, grand openings, graduations, New Year's babies, floods, fires, celebrations, multimillion dollar developments, slowdowns and shutdowns...the decade has seen them all.

Looking back reminds us of times we had nearly forgotten: the day we just missed the ferry, and were therefore not on it when it sunk, the day Erik Neilson phoned the Pentagon to find out if the rumored Cruise Missile tests were a fact, the time Millie's Flowers and Crafts grand opening ad read, 'Millie's Flowers and Doughnuts,' six-hour Town Council meetings and nine-day ERCB hearings, a cavalcade of Elk Point farmers chugging up to the Parliament Buildings on tractors, Brian Mulroney silhouetted against a Canadian flag as he tugged on cowboy boots and proclaimed he was for the west, John Drobot lifted on the shoulders of his supporters at the announcement of his first legislative victory, the elation over John Dahmer's election to Parliament and the despair of his death a few days later. These events and so many others made up the news of the decade, and had their part in shaping our way of life.

Wild Rose in Winter

... and looking ahead

What will the coming decade hold in store?

Given the mind-boggling growth and development of Elk Point in the 1980s, very little of which we would ever have dreamed, ten years ago, we know that it is almost impossible to predict what amount of progress could come our way in the final decade of the century.

However, we do have a few things we hope will happen, and some of them the sooner the better. The widening of Highway 41 to the Highway 28 junction, and the paving of Secondary 646 at least to the Myrnam Highway, if not to Lafond, would be two major aids to navigation in this area, and would cut down on accident potential. The development of a major tourist attraction at the site of Fort George and Buckingham House fur trading posts would be a fitting way to celebrate the bicentennial of the area's most significant historical landmark. Development of a new source for Elk Point's water supply would benefit us all in more drinkable water and less hassle in its production, not to mention an end to the annual bugbear of water rationing. And maybe, just maybe, the tourist booth will get moved to a more convenient and accessible location. Highways, the forts, water and the tourist booth are all items which have cropped up in the news of the day throughout the 1980s. We can be fairly sure they will be back in the '90s...only this time, we hope it will be the resolution of these long standing items which we can report to our readers.

The best for 1990, and the rest of the decade to all our readers.

By Irene Magnusson
Alberta Trails

Dr. R.D. (Bob) Symons was an author and artist known to many of you, and certainly his work is admired afar. I think he was something of a hero to my Uncle, Harold Hobden, who, having read some of his works, wrote to the man, and later, on his invitation, went to visit him in Saskatchewan. Robert Symons wrote mostly of Saskatchewan, but some of Alberta, too.

He came to Canada in 1914, from England, and was a rancher, grain farmer, conservationist and teacher. As his talents developed, he took up a paintbrush, and depicted the Canadian wildlife he was surrounded with, at the same time writing many stories of the flora and fauna of the prairies.

One of his books is "Hours and the Birds," a hardcover, fairly large book, filled with lore of the many birds of Canada west, the pages liberally illustrated with many sketches of the native winged inhabitants, as well as a few lovely full-color paintings. That he loved these feathered creatures is obvious — and he wanted others to know and love them too.

This is the name of the Symons home: "Meadowlark Cottage", Sifton, Saskatchewan. Isn't that lovely? One can almost hear the trills. Here the author lived with his wife, until his passing some years ago.

Other writings of Bob Symons were "Still the Wind Blows" and "Where the Wagons Lead," and at least some of these were poetry. I have not read all the tales he wove, as my Uncle surely did, but I know of them, and perhaps I will get to them all yet.

The powerful words of one artist can move others to take pen in hand. Here is a comment made, in verse, by Betty Bailey, of Saskatchewan, on some of the works of Bob Symons.

THE UNBROKEN SNARE

*The oriole's song is just a little clearer
Sweet the voice of meadowlark and wren;
Brighter the hue of goldfinch and of waxwing,
Since we have known his voice and brush and pen.*

From the Qu'appelle to far Chilcotin ranges,

*From prairie ranch to great Peace River hill,
On many trails we ride with him in memory;
Still blows the wind and he is with us still.*

*Live from the written page his old companions
Stood, so it seemed, among us as he read -
The voice we loved has left a spell unbroken;
We with them follow where the wagons led.*

Betty Bailey

Bob Symons died in February, of 1973, leaving his wife Hope, and some children. Some of his works may surely be found in the libraries of the land, and should be read, especially by anyone interested in the "other" inhabitants of our land, the birds and beasts of the plains.

Other purposes rhymes can be put to are of a humorous vein. I have a brother who spent many hours, or days, weeks — at the fascinating craft of lapidary, the cutting, polishing, engraving and setting of stones. He didn't work with the precious sort, but the semi-precious, and part of the joy of his craft was searching for native stones. So intent are these "rock hounds" on their craft or hobby, they form clubs, they have gatherings and meetings — and sometimes a whole flock of them go out together and scour the river banks and shallows, or other likely places, in the search of suitable stones, to mold with their cuttings and polishings.

I, too, have been a rock-picker, bringing from the fields, when I'd spied them from the tractor seat, or when pursuing the milk cows home from pasture, a goodly assortment of granite, sandstone, marble and such. I have gone for the larger samples, and used them to circle my many flowerbeds. I can probably still tell you which one came from the Frank Slide, or the fire-tower hill in Clear Prairie, or the slab from Grand Forks, or Marble Canyon in the Rockies.

But this person (Ann Onymous) who penned these lines was, I believe a lapidarian searching for lapids to polish — or something — and saw the humor of her ways:

COLLECTING ROCKS

*I think that there shall never be
An ignoramus just like me,
Who roams the hills throughout the day
To pick up rocks that do not pay,
For there is one thing I've been told,
I take the rocks and leave the gold.
O're deserts wild or mountains blue,
I search for rocks of varied hue.
A hundred pounds or more I pack;
With blistered feet and aching back;
And after this is said and done,
I cannot name a single one.
I pick up rocks where e're I go.
The reason why I do not know;
For rocks are found by folks like me,
Where God INTENDED them to be.*

***

Poetry can be used for so many things. To tell of love, or anger, to get the adrenalin of war flowing, or call in the dove of peace. Poetry can be dramatic and stirring, or filled with soft humor, blatant in its meaning, or obscure. It's hard to believe, but there are some folks who don't even like poetry and never read it, and I'm sure we all have our favorites and some we will pay no heed to at all.

I admit my own special brand of poetry will have a good swinging lilt to it, whether it rhymes or not, and when I have read it, or heard it recited, I will know what the author had in mind.

Who among us has not thrilled to "Horatius at the Bridge" or the coaxing voice of E. Pauline Johnson, as she bids the "West wind blow from your prairie nest, Blow from the mountains, blow from the west," to speed her canoe along to "The Song My Paddle Sings?" Whose scalp has not prickled and felt the piercing cold along with "Sam McGee," who was from Tennessee, as his musing partner prepared to cremate his last remains?

Even a tender lullaby is poetry, of sorts, and all the love songs ever sung. We need the spoken song of poetry, to speak our thoughts and express our innermost feelings. Prose alone won't do it.

So as the Old Year dies away, the ground is white with frost and snow, Think "Spring will come again one day," and all this icy stuff will go!

Meanwhile, Happy New Year to All!

Departing staff honored

Two members of Elk Point Hospital's nursing staff were honored by their co-workers recently, with an afternoon reception for Elna Eidsvik held Thursday, December 21 and a coffee party for Joanne Hutton the following morning.

Ms Eidsvik was a 1955 graduate of Misericordia Hospital, who worked as a district nurse in the Tullibly Lake area, a summer relief community health nurse at Onion Lake, a health care worker with the Vermilion-Minburn health unit, part time hospital nurse in Lloydminster, and volunteer nurse in the Arctic and in Mexico as well as her work in Elk Point Hospital. Her duties in Elk Point have shown her to be efficient, cheerful, and knowledgeable, with a cool head and a calm manner when faced with emergencies.

'Mr. Northern Lights,' in furry parka, and 'Miss Chili Pepper,' in flamenco costume, brought applications for work in those far-away climates, in case Ms Eidsvik decides that retirement is not for her. Helga Vaughan, Norma Berg and MC Lillian Demchuk joined the two 'visitors' to sing carols originating in the Canadian north and the tropics, while

'Mr. Northern Lights' offered a poem.

Presentations were made by Hospital Board Chairman John Mohyluk, Elizabeth Didow on behalf of UNA, Lillian Demchuk for the hospital staff, Loretta Pinder for the medical staff, Violet McFadyen for the retired staff, and Lillian Demchuk for the Operating Room staff. Ms Eidsvik also received gifts from her son and daughter, their spouses and children, who were present for the gathering. A festively decorated cake, courtesy of Genevieve Shmyr and Diane Heathcote, served as both centrepiece and part of the refreshments.

Ms Eidsvik told the gathering she will 'leave with a lot of memories. I like the spirit, I like the attitude here—keep it up!' She recalled a nursing instructor who taught her to think of patients as people, 'not the appendectomy in Bed 9,' which she felt was of utmost importance throughout her career. Ms Eidsvik presented the hospital with a number of plants, grown from slips off plants given her over the years, as 'symbols of life and continual renewal.' She also introduced a special guest, Sister Monica, who was her partner on a white water rafting adventure this summer.

A number of long term patients and staff joined in bidding farewell to Joanne Hutton at a coffee party on Friday, December 22. Ms Hutton has been a RNA in Elk Point since February 5, 1979, and has been especially devoted to the older patients, coming in on her days off to work with the extended care patients. Ms Hutton is very much a patient advocate, who sees the patient's point of view. She was presented with a number of gifts from her friends at the hospital.

Local specials on cable

Two special seasonal presentations have been enjoyed by viewers of our local cable Channel 5 over the holiday weeks.

The show included interviews with Millie

Orr, regarding the care and feeding of gift plants, the RCMP, regarding their Check Stop program, and Santa Claus.

Last week, the United Church Cantata was featured during the 8:00 p.m. time slot, while this week's plans are to show the Bonnyville Country Opry.

The Focus on the Lakeland Christmas Special was produced by Birch Hill Enterprises, who also filmed the Cantata for later enjoyment by cable viewers.

Gift Of Memories

Joanne Hutton was presented with an album recalling her days on the staff of Elk Point Hospital.

What's news at the library?

The Elk Point Public Library Board and Staff wishes all their patrons a Very Happy and Prosperous New Year.

A great big thank you to our many volunteers that supported us this past year. Without you we would not have been able to accomplish nearly as much as we did. We would also like to thank the public for all their support and donation of books during the past year.

Please note that library fees for 1990 are now due: $12.00 Family, $6.00 Adults, $3.00 Children.

The children that attended the matinee last Thursday afternoon enjoyed Bill Cosby in Aesop's Fables.

The Lakeland Theatre Group donated a number of video cassettes to the library's video collection. Included are Agatha Christie's "The Mirror Cracked" and "Death on the Nile", Jim Henson's "The Dark Crystal" and Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman" starring Dustin Hoffman.

NEW BOOKS:
"Daddy" by Danielle Steel - Internationally renowned novelist and the most widely read author in America, once again displays her unequalled talent for exploring universal human emotions as she probes the hearts, minds, and lives of three men and three generations.

Three great volumes of "Outlaws and Lawmen of Western Canada" - Here are some of Western Canada's dramatic crimes in these three volumes.

"Beady Bear" by Don Freeman - "B" is for Bear - an animal brave who lives in a cave. But when Beady, a toy bear, tries to live according to the book, he quickly discovers it takes more than a cave to satisfy him. The kind of book small children will delight in.

In Memoriam

WUTZKE, Darryl Wallace
In loving memory of Darryl Wallace Wutzke who passed away December 27, 1988.

We lost someone with a heart of gold who was more to us than wealth untold

Without a farewell he fell asleep
With only memories to keep
We have lost, but God has gained
One of the best the world contained
Quietly remembered every day
Sadly missed along life's way
No longer in our life to share
But in our hearts and thoughts
You are always there.

Tenderly we treasure the past
With memories that will always last Always loved and sadly missed by Sherry, Charles and Cody.

Stuparyks celebrate anniversary

By Emil Wysocki

On Saturday, October 28, 1989, exactly to the day 50 years ago, Mike and Anne Stuparyk of Elk Point, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at the Elk Point Pioneer Senior Center. Approximately one hundred guests attended the happy occasion.

Pearl Slywka, Anne's cousin, served as bridesmaid and Steve Stuparyk, Mike's cousin, was the best man. A very enjoyable program was hosted by son, Harvey who acted as master of ceremonies. A very sumptuous buffet was catered by the Empress Cafe and a program was organized by the celebrants' children: Cassie and Leo Gau of Markham, Ontario; Harriet and Marvin Chupka of Sherwood Park; and Harvey and Jane Stuparyk of Vermilion.

Grandchildren Rodney and Sherry Gau, Murray and Crystal Chupka and Jory and Caine Stuparyk presented the grandparents with a dozen red roses. A musical interlude by Murray with Crystal Chupka on saxophones was enjoyable with selections of In The Mood; Love Me Tender; Five Foot Two, Eyes of Blue; Can't Help Falling in Love With You; Rock Around the Clock; and the Anniversary Waltz. Fred Stuparyk, Mike's brother from Mackenzie, B.C., sang two songs, one specially composed for this occasion. Anne's sister, Marie Wysocki of Sherwood Park, gave a brief history of Mike's and Anne's meeting, courting, marriage and birth of their children, Cassie, Harriet and Harvey.

Son-in-law, Marvin Chupka gave a brief outline of the Time Almanac of life in 1939 when Anne and Mike were married. Marvin also made a presentation of certificates and congratulations from such dignitaries as the Pope, the prime Minister of Canada, Alberta's Lieutenant Governor Helen Hunley, the Governor General of Canada, the Town of Elk Point, constituent M.P. Deborah Gray, Premier Don Getty and St. Paul M.L.A. John Drobot.

Many of the immediate relatives and friends extended their congratulations and best wishes for many more happy years for the celebrants.

Wed 50 Years

Mike and Anne Stuparyk celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary with a gathering at the Pioneer Circle Hall.

Two home ice wins for Elks

Elk Point Elks had two home ice wins over the holiday season, defeating Edgerton Comets 6-1 on Friday, December 22 and Dewberry Mustangs 5-3 on Friday, December 29.

Elks 6, Comets 1

A scoreless first period showed fine defensive work on the part of both hard hitting Sask-Alta League teams, as scoring opportunities were quickly nipped in the bud. The Elks hit the scoreboard early in the second period, with a goal by Eugene Zarowny, assisted by Kerry Loughran hitting the Edgerton net after less than two minutes of play. Elks newcomer Lane Lorenson snagged a pass by Mike Boratynec and fired it into the net half a period later to give the Elks a two goal margin, but the Comets countered with their lone goal of the game 74 seconds later to shrink the gap. Mike Boratynec took advantage of an Edgerton penalty to score a third for the Elks, off an assist by Chester Richard, late in the period.

The third period belonged entirely to the Elks, with a second goal by Boratynec, assisted by Chester Richard and Lane Lorenson, quickly followed by an unassisted goal by Terry Wozniak. Chester Richard scored the final goal of the game with a long shot from the blueline, off a pass by Mike Boratynec, with 8:57 left on the clock.

Elks 5, Mustangs 3

The best hockey crowd in years packed A. G. Ross Arena for last Friday's contest between Elk Point Elks and Dewberry Mustangs. Both teams had large rosters of players on hand and were more than ready for an evening of exciting hockey action.

The Elks were again first on the scoreboard, with Chester Richard scoring off assists by Lane Lorenson and Mike Boratynec five minutes into the game, taking advantage of a Dewberry penalty. Dewberry kept up a steady onslaught on the Elks defense, but were turned back time after time. The Elks, however, found their way past the Mustangs' goalie three more times during the period, with Pat Lamoreux assisted by Allan Loughran, Chester Richard assisted by Terry Wozniak and Jeff Buck, and Richard Marcoux assisted by Bob Gagne and Willie Lesyk.

Dewberry's first goal came five and a half minutes into the second period, as a shot by Jerry Kjenner ricocheted off the glass, hit Elks goalie Mike Scott and bounced into the net, for the lone goal of the period.

The Elks' final goal of the game came just short of 20 minutes of play later, with Pat Lamoreux scoring his second of the evening, off assists by Kerry Loughran and Willie Lesyk. Dewberry replied a minute and a half later, making the score 5-2. For much of the balance of the period, goal scoring was set aside in favor of multiple minor scuffles between the rival teams. However, Dewberry took advantage of the resulting penalties to score another goal, for a final score of 5-3 in the Elks' favor.

May harmony, peace and joy be the notes upon which your New Year is composed.
